

Privacy Policy

THE TAX SLAYER 78 INC. | Effective October 14, 2026

1. Scope

This Privacy Policy describes how The Tax Slayer 78 Inc. ("we," "us," or "our") collects, uses, protects, and discloses personal information when you visit our website, contact us, or request our services. Some services and third-party providers have additional privacy notices or consent requirements.

2. Information We Collect

Depending on the service, we may collect names, addresses, email addresses, telephone numbers, appointment and communication details, payment or transaction details, and information you choose to provide in inquiries.

For tax preparation and certain business services, we may need Social Security numbers, taxpayer identification numbers, dates of birth, income records, financial statements, business information, and supporting documents. We request sensitive information only when needed for an authorized purpose.

Website hosting or technology providers may process technical data such as IP address, browser information, and pages visited. Any use of nonessential cookies or analytics should be described in a separate cookie notice or settings where applicable.

3. How We Use Information

We use information to respond to inquiries; provide and administer requested tax preparation, credit-related, business consulting, notary, and other services; communicate about appointments and engagements; process authorized payments; maintain records; improve our operations; protect against fraud; and meet legal obligations.

We do not treat a general website inquiry as permission to use tax return information for unrelated marketing or other purposes requiring specific consent.

4. Taxpayer Information and Confidentiality

Tax return information is subject to special federal confidentiality rules, including Internal Revenue Code Section 7216 and applicable regulations. We use or disclose tax return information only as permitted by law or pursuant to a valid consent where required. A general website privacy policy does not replace any legally required taxpayer consent.

5. How We Share Information

We may disclose information to authorized personnel and service providers performing functions for us, when reasonably necessary to provide an agreed service, when you direct or authorize disclosure, or as required or permitted by law. Applicable taxpayer confidentiality rules may impose additional restrictions.

We do not sell taxpayer information. We do not authorize third parties to use tax return information for their own marketing without any consent required by law.

6. Third-Party Websites and Services

Our website may link to third-party services, including Flexxbuy financing applications, travel suppliers, payment processors, and secure client portals. When you follow an external link, the third party may collect information under its own privacy policy and terms.

Flexxbuy financing applications are hosted by a third party; lending decisions and any lender data collection are governed by the applicable provider and lender disclosures. We do not ask visitors to submit loan application details through our general contact email.

7. Security and Sensitive Documents

We take reasonable administrative, technical, and organizational measures appropriate to the information we handle and restrict access to personnel with a legitimate business need. No internet transmission or storage method is completely risk-free.

Please do not send Social Security numbers, tax returns, bank statements, or other sensitive records through ordinary email or a general website inquiry. Use the secure submission method we provide for your engagement.

8. Retention

We retain records as needed to provide services, comply with legal and professional recordkeeping requirements, resolve disputes, and protect legitimate business interests. Retention periods vary by record type and applicable law.

9. Your Choices and Requests

You may contact us to request access to or correction of information, or to ask about deletion, subject to legal retention obligations and any applicable rights and exceptions. We may need to verify your identity before acting on a request. You can also ask us about our communications practices.

10. Children

Our services and website are not directed to children acting independently. Information concerning dependents or minors may be collected when lawfully necessary for a client engagement.

11. Policy Changes

We may revise this policy as our services or legal requirements change. The updated version will be posted with its effective date. Material changes will be communicated when required by law.

12. Contact

The Tax Slayer 78 Inc. | Phone: (678) 355-8139 | Email: info@thetaxslayer78.com